FORTIETH CONGRESS.

National Currency Discussed—The Omnibus Bill Passed—Admission of Reconstructed States—Consideration of the Tax Bill Resumed, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 12, 1868.

SENATE.

Mr. MORTON, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a joint resolution requesting the President to intercede with the Queen of Great Britain, to secure a speedy discharge of the Rev. John McMahon, convicted of treason and felony, and now confined at Kingston, Canada West. Passed.

Mr. HARLAN, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, reported, with amendment, the bill to regulate the contested elections in Washington. He urged immediate consideration.

Mr. HENERICKS objected, and the bill went over.

Mr. EDWARDS introduced a bill in addition to the act to regulate the time and manner of holding elections for Senators in Congress.

Mr. HENDRICKS, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill to aid the construction of a ship canal between the Mississippi and Lake Michigan.

Mr. CONNESS called up the bill in relation to the Western Pacific Railroad Company, it allows the company to occupy for a depot, storehouses &c., such portions of Yerba Bula or Goat Island, in the Bay of San Francisco, as may be necessary. After discussion it was laid aside.

At the expiration of the morning hour, and on motion, Mr. Sherman's bill, supplementary to an act to provide a national currency, secured by a pledge of United States bonds and to provide for the circulation thereof, approved June 3d, 1864, was taken up. The question was on the amendment, by the Committee of Finance, the first amendment was adopted, making the limitation, restricting the liabilities of individual companies, &c., for money borrowed of the National Banking Association applicable to deposits made by such associations with private bankers, brokers or banking associations, not included under the National Currency act. The second amendment provides that within ninety days after the notice of a vote to liquidate by shareholders of a National Banking Association, it shall pay the amounts of its outstanding notes into the United States Treasury, and take up its bonds which otherwise are to be sold by public auction in New York, the surplus to be paid to the officers of the Association already in liquidation under such act, and are to pay it over in thirty days under the same penalty. The notes are to be then redeemed at the United States Treasury, and the Association is to be discharged from disability.

It was amended on motion Mr. HOWARD by making auction at stock exchange and adopted. The third amendment provides for the compensation to the receivers of National Banking Associations of three per cent on the first hundred thousand dollars, one per cent upon large sums not yielding $400,000, and one half of one per cent on sums over $500,000. Collections to be paid out of the receipts from the assets, and one half of the Commissions to be withheld on the Comptrollers discretion, until the affairs of the bank are closed. Such a receiver is to be considered as a government agent with the right to bring suits in United States Courts, the District Judge to fix the fees for such receivers.

Mr. CAMERON moved to reduce the per centage named from three per cent. on one hundred thousand dollars, to two; from one per cent. on sums under five hundred thousand to one-half of one; from one-half on sums upwards of five hundred thousand to one quarter, It was supported by Mr. CONKLING and opposed by Messrs. SHERMAN, CATTELL, WILLIAMS and MORTON, and adopted by 23 to 19.

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, opposed it and moved to add a proviso that the Secretary of the Treasury shall be authorized to withdraw an equal amount of United States notes. A long discussion followed.

Mr. FERRY moved to amend by inserting after the provision authorizing the receivers to bring suits, the words "and may invest the assets of the bank in their hands in bonds of the United States, while the affairs of the bank are not in liquidation, which bonds shall be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States, subject to the order of the Comptroller of the currency, and the receivers shall also make a report to the Comptroller of all their acts and proceedings, and the Comptroller shall be authorized to sell such bonds from time to time in order to make the dividends and payments provided in the fiftieth section of the act to which this act is a supplementary amendment. Agreed to, and the section as amended was also agreed to.

On the last amendment to increase the national currency circulation by the sum of twenty millions, to be confined to States and Territories having a circulation of less than five for each inhabitant, Mr. WILSON moved to amend by inserting after the words the sum of the following $100,000,000, "and in issuing the said circulation notes preference shall be given to banking associations in States and sections of the country not adequately supplied with banking facilities, but whenever the amount of United States notes and circulating notes of national banks combined shall be in excess of $650,000,000, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and required to retire and cancel United States notes to the extent of such excess, until the whole amount of United States notes outstanding shall be reduced $250,000,000, and that for the purpose of facilitating the resumption of specie payments. The interest received by each banking association upon bonds owned and deposited with the Treasurer of the United States by such banking association shall be held as a reserve fund until said banking association shall redeem, in coin, the currency issued by it, and the said specie reserve fund shall be used for no other purpose than for the redemption of said currency."

Mr. SHERMAN opposed the amendment as opening up the whole currency question, which the Committee had thought it wise to avoid in the present heated state of National politics. The Committee had offered this amendment to afford a slight relief on account of the gross inequality in circulation complained of in the Western and Southern States.

Mr. WILSON said New York and Pennsylvania have more than two-thirds of the circulation, and he was in favor of free banking.

Mr. CONKLING pronounced both schemes to be efforts to get inflation, and proceeded at some length to argue that Congress was not responsible for the present anomilous state of affaars, viz., the Treasury issuing bonds bearing 6 per cent. interest. payable in coin, equivalent to 8 per cent. with an easy money market. It was too clear in his opinion, to be questioned, that the existing laws make the Secretary of the Treasury absolute master of the situation.

Mr. SHERMAN believed that though the Secretary doubtless had power under the existing laws, to issue any class of bonds, they were responsible until they come to the Secretary's relief.

After further debate, Mr. WILSON asked a division on his amendment, and the question being on the first part thereof, it was lost without a division. At the suggestion of Mr. Sherman, Mr. WILSON withdrew the latter part.

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, moved to amend by adding at the end of the section the words, "and on the issue of any increase of national circulation provided for in this section; the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized, and requested, to permanently withdraw an equal amount of United States notes."

Mr. TRUMBULL thought this simply another proposition to borrow money and put off the time for the desirable resumption of specie payments.

Mr. DRAKE protested against the attempt of the New England States, already gorged with circulation, to deny an increase to the west. He asserted that there is now in the country but $12 per capita, while in 1860 there was $15, and that less money was required then than now.

Mr. WILSON remarked there is now $650,000,000 in the country which is a larger proportion than before the war, and he insisted that the banking capital of New England has not increased but has diminished since the beginning of the war. If he thought capital was not in circulation and was needed in the west he would vote for the $20,000,000 increase.

At half-past four, without further action, the Senate went into Executive session.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The SPEAKFR said he had been requested to present to the House, and as the matter appeared to be national in its character, he did present an invitation from the Executive Committee of the National American Sharpshooters, to attend a public demonstration and festival which was to take place at Jones Wood, New York, from June 27th to July 5th.

Mr. JUDD moved that the invitation be accepted, and that the House be represented at the opening ceremonies by four members.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, hoped not. It was a very bad practice to teach people to shoot sharp. The motion waa agreed to.

The SPEAKER appointed the following members to represent the House: Messrs. Judd, Garfield, Paine, Chanler and Orth.

Mr. PRICE introduced a bill to relieve T. J. Macey, of South Carolina, from his political disabilities. Referred to Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. BINGHAM, from the Committee on Reconstruction, reported back the Senate amendments to the act to admit certain States to representation in Congress, with the recommendation that the amendments be concurred in.

Mr. SPAULDING moved to concur in the amendments of the Senate, with the amendment striking out Alabama.

Mr. FARNSWORTH moved to strike Florida out of the bill, and gave his reasons for the motion. He was thoroughly convinced that Florida ought not to be admitted with its present Constitution.

Mr. PAINE also argued against the admission of Florida under this bill.

Mr. BUTLER replied to the arguments of Messrs. Farnsworth and Paine.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, remarked that he would remand Florida to the Territorial conditions.

Mr. BUTLER—Let me ask whether Florida has not as many inhabitants as Colorado, for which the gentleman voted?

Mr. WASHBURNE—I beg your pardon. I voted against it.

Mr BROMWELL asked the gentleman from New York whether he thought it was very safe to trust all the local organization of the State in the hands of one man, so if he should prove recreant to principles or die, and be succeeded by a Lieutenant Governor, the entire organization of the State might not be committed into rebel hands?

Mr. HUBBARD replied that Florida had not made the tremendous mistake which was made at Baltimore in selecting a man as second, who could not be trusted in case the principal died.

Mr. BROMWELL inquired then whether the whole thing did not depend upon one man, and whether if he died his successor would be as good as himself.

Mr. HUBBARD replied that the Lieutenant Governor was a loyal, true man. As he believed, he added, the whole of this objection arose because a citizen of Illinois had gone down to Florida, and had not succeeded as he expected in obtaining a majority for the Governorship. That was the trouble. It was because that Illinois man had not succeeded in getting the control of the organization of the State. If he had succeeded there would be no objection today to the admission of Florida.

Mr. BROMWELL protested, so far as he was concerned, he neither knew nor cared what Mr. Richard's performances were there, and he never had the least idea that the gentleman's welfare had anything to do with the matter.

Mr. FARNSWORTH asked Mr. Hubbard whether the Reconstruction Committee approves, even to-day, the Constitution of Florida.

Mr. HUBBARD replied it did, and added that he had understood the getleman from Illinois (Mr. Farnsworth) to say this morning in the Committee room that he regarded the Constitution of Florida as the very best Constitution that any of the Southern States had.

Mr. FARNSWORTH—The gentleman is entirely mistaken. I never made such a remark; I never said anything at all on the subject.

Mr. HUBBARD—Will the gentleman tell me what his remark did apply to?

Mr. FARNSWORTH—I may have spoken about Alabama, but the entire Reconstruction Committee has unanimously declared against the Constitution of Florida.

Mr. HUBBARD—So it has, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FARNSWORTH—And it does so now, but the members say they had better admit the State notwithstanding.

Mr. HUBBARD—I deny the gentlemans right to say that Mr. PARKER remarked the legislation involved some questions of law and policy, and five minutes was a short time in which to say anything adequate to the subject. He would ask leave to print some remarks. Granted.

Mr. BINGHAM, desired action of the House speedily on the bill, and would therefore call the previous question; but first asked his collegue Mr. SPALDING, whether he desired to offer his amendment now.

Mr. SPAULDING—Yes, I move to strike out Alabama from the bill.

The following is the bill in full:

An Act to admit the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Florida to representation in Congress.

WHEREAS, The people of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama and Florida have, in pursuance of the provisions of an act entitled "An act for the more efficient government of the rebel States," passed March 2, 1867, and the act supplemental thereto, framed Constitutions of a State Government, which are republican, and have adopted said Constitutions by large majorities of votes cast at the elections held for the ratification or repealing of the same; therefore

Be it enacted, That each of the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama and Florida shall be entitled and admitted to representation in Congress as a State of the Union, when the Legislatures of such States shall have duly ratified the amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as Article XIV, upon the following fundamental conditions:

SECTION 1. That the Constitution of neither of said States shall ever be so amended or changed as to deprive any citizen, or class of citizens of the United States, of the right to vote in said State who are entitled to vote by the constitution thereof herein recognized except as punishment of such crimes as are now felonies at common law, and whereof they shall have been duly convicted under the laws equally applicable to all the inhabitants of said State, provided that any alteration of said constitutions prospective in its effect, may be made with regard to the time and place of residence of the voters and the State of Georgia shall only be entitled and admitted to representation upon this further fundamental condition, that the first and third sub-divisions of section 17 of the 5th article of the constitution of said State, except the proviso to the 1st sub-division shall be null and void, and that the General Assembly of said State by solemn public act shall declare the assent of the State to the foregoing fundamental condition.

SECTION 2. That if the day fixed for the first meeting of the Legislature of either of said States by the Constitution or ordinance thereof, shall have passed or so nearly arrived before the passage of the act that there shall not be time for the Legislature to assemble at the period fixed by such Legislature shall convene at the end of 20 days from the time this act shall take effect, unless the Governor elect shall sooner convene the same.

SECTION 3. That the first section of this act shall take effect as to each State except Georgia, when such State shall by its Legislature duly ratify article fourteenth of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, prepared by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and as to the State of Georgia, when it shall in addition give the assent of said State to the fundamental condition hereinbefore imposed upon the same, and thereupon officers of each State duly elected aund qualified under the Constitution thereof, shall be inaugurated without delay, but no person is prohibited from holding office under the United States, or under any State by the section of the proposed amendment to the Constitution, of the United States, known as article 14 shall be deemed eligible to any office in either of said States unless relieved from disability as provided in said amendment, and it is hereby made the duty of the President, within ten days after receiving official information of the ratification of said amendment by the Legislature of either of said States to issue a proclamation announcing that fact.

Mr. SHELLABERGER asked Mr. Bingham whether the Committee found Florida had conformed to the requirements of the acts of Congress, and if so he was willing to leave the details of the matter not affecting the loyalty and safety of the Government to the people, and welcome her back as speedily as possible to the Union.

Mr. BINGHAM replied that Florida had complied with all the requirements of the reconstruction acts, and proceeded with his remarks.

Mr. SPAULDING, in view of the fact that both branches of Congress had voted in favor of admitting Alabama, withdrew his amendment.

After further debate the motion to exclude Florida from the omnibus bill was defeated. Yeas 45, nays 99; and the Senate amendments concurred in. The bill now goes to the President for his signature.

The vote on the passage of the Omnibus bill was—yeas 111, nays 28.

By the unanimous consent of the House and at the suggestion of the Speaker, the Committee to represent the House at the National Sharp-shooters festival in New York, was increased from five to seven and the Speaker appointed as the two additional members, William H. Robertson of New York and Mr. Knott of Kentucky.

Mr. SCHENCK at the suggestion of Mr. Robertson, reported from the Committee on Ways and Means, a joint resolution to remit the duties on certain articles contributed to the National Association of American Sharp-shooters to the amount not exceeding $10,000 in currency. Passed unanimously.

Mr. BUTLER, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back adversely the Senate bill to provide for the deficiency in expenses incurred in the survey of the Cherokee and Osage Indian reservations. After hours of discussion the bill was recommitted.

Mr. BUTLER also reported a bill appropriating $150,000 to aid the Indian Peace Commissioner, which was ordered to be printed, and the House, at half past three o'clock, proceeded to the business of the morning hour—the reception of the reports of private nature, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions. A large number of bills passed before the morning hour expired.

Mr. WOODWARD introduced a bill to amend the act relative to habeas corpus and regulating the judicial proceedings in certain cases. He said it related to common carriers in the Southern States. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Mr. SCHENCK proposed that the House devote all day to-morrow, from 11 o'clock to 5 o'clock, to the tax bill, but objection was made.

EVENING SESSION.

In Committee the House resumed the consideration of the tax bill. The paragraph requiring a two cent stamp on receipts was struck out. The limit of six months for affixing proper stamps on instruments, was extended to twelve months. An additional section was introduced, relieving from stamp tax uncompounded medicines or medicines compounded according to United States or other national Pharmacopia, of which the full and proper formula is published. The receipts given by Pawn-brokers for goods received when the money is advanced don't exceed one dollar, were exempted from stamp. The tax section 113, which taxes Banks and Bankers being under consideration.

Mr. PRICE moved to reduce the tax to an average amount of circulation from one-sixth of one per cent. per month to one twenty-fourth of one per cent., which occasioned a lively discussion as to the profits of city and country Banks. During the discussion Mr. BLAINE argued that a tax of a half per cent. per annum on average deposits would produce three million dollars, as much as the proposed tax on the circulation, which would bear heavily on the country banks.

Mr. PRICE finally modified his amendment to one-twelfth of one per cent. Without a decision upon the question the Committee rose and the House agreed to sit from eleven to five o'clock to-morrow, having no evening session.

MORTGAGES.

Same day eight mortgages and thirty-two ordinances passed by City Councils were filed of record.

"Finlay Medal"—Westminster College.

There is a beautiful gold medal now on exhibition in the window of John Stevenson & Sons' jewelry store, Market street, which will be awarded to the successful competitor in the senior class of Westminster College, in the department of History, Philology and English Literature, at the annual commencement on the 25th instant. It bears the following inscription: "Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa. Commencement, 1868. History, Philology and English Literature."

It is called the "Finlay Medal," and is the gift of Col. J. B. Finlay, LL. D., of Kittanning, Armstrong county, a gentleman eminent for his classic culture and patronage of literature, as well as his liberality to institutions of learning. We understand that Col. Finlay intends giving an annual medal to the successful contestant in the branches mentioned above. Westminster College, now under the Presidency of Senator R. A. Browne, is in successful operation, and bids fair to take a high place among the collegiate institutes of the country. It is expected that thirty young men and women will graduate at the approaching commencement.

City Mortality.

Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the city of Pittsburgh, from May 31st to June 7th, 1868:

Diseases—Adults: Pyæmia, 1; Unknown, 1; Gastro Entrentis, 1; Consumption, 1—4. Children—Feebleness, 1; Teething, 1; Caynosis, 1; Inanition, 1; Pneumonia, 2; Consumption, 1; Heart Disease, 1; Premature Birth, 1; Convulsions, 1; Mandklem, 1; Diptheria, 1—12.

Of the above there were: Under 1 year, 9; from 1 to 2, 1; 5 to 10, 1; 20 to 30, 3; 40 to 50, 1; 60 to 70, 1.

Males, 7; females, 9; white, 16; colored, 0; total, 16.

These figures show the health of the city to be remarkably good, there being but five deaths of persons over ten years of age.

Cross Suits.

Henry M Curry made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging James Irwin with assault and battery. Curry is clerk for Caughey & Co., and Irwin is a grocer at the corner of Liberty and Ferry streets. It is alleged that Curry caught Irwin's son stealing metal from the metal yard, and that he caught hold of and handled him roughly, for which Irwin knocked him down, in consequence of which the information was made. The parties were arrested and held for a hearing.

OLD AGE.

Old Age, the evening of our life, the air
And sweet tranquility of light when day
Hath laid its implements of toil away,
And the last breezes cool the brain from care:
So may'st thou end! the silver twilight star
Thy symbol high of happiness and peace,
Drawing more beauty as the sounds decrease
Between the dusk and Night's approaching car;
Thy well-proved arms to eager Youth resign;
They fit him well: the council chair is thine.

The quiet smile within the clear blue eye;
The scarce, fine hair that shines like silvery frost
With morning's early sunbeams faintly crossed;
The thin, pale hand, with azure tracery;
Venerable motions, and the frame by time
Hallowed and half withdrawn from loud Life,
Like some cathedral gray with memories rife,
In pillowed aisles and walks of arching lime;
These are the trails on which thy mellowed light
Rests ere it sets, to rise beyond the night.

BASE BALL.

A Startling Disclosure.

BY JOHN QUILL.

(From the Philadelphia Sunday Transcript.)

I have a terrible revelation to make. Who would have thought that in this very community there is a band of men who are leagued together for the purpose of doing deeds at which angels might well weep, and at the recital of which the hardiest man would shudder, and tear his hair out by the handful? Why nobody.

But it is so!

Listen.

Upon my return from the South, where I had my interview with the Kuk Klux Klan, I was waited upon by my friend Felix O'Dowd, who made the following statement, which I hasten to give to the public, so that people may prepare to defend their altars and their fires, strike till the last armed foe expires, and keep out of the green graves of their sires, thus saving funeral expenses, and sustaining the healthy reputation of the city.

"Do you know," said Mr. Felix O'Dowd, "what all these base ball clubs are for?"

"Why, to amuse young men who have a fondness for working very hard gratuitously, of course," said I.

"Ha! ha!" laughed Felix, wildly, "not so; let me whisper it to you.

"THEY MEAN BLOOD!!!!!!"

"I board with the Secretary of the Tom Tit Club, and in the silent watches of night before last, I saw him rise up off his couch, go to the bureau, read a lot of papers, run his fingers through his hair with a wild and desperate air, draw his razor across his throat three times, sigh deeply, and return to bed.

"I examined these papers the next day. I tell you these base ball clubs are parts of an organization which is sworn to rise up and slaughter every Republican in these United States before next fall, so as to increase the Democratic majority. They are Ku-Klux-Klanners in another shape. They are going to deluge this land with blood. They intend to begin with the able-bodied men who are liable to the draft, and then take all the boys under twenty-one, and slaughter such as have Radical proclivities.

"Oh, I tell you the undertaking business will prove profitable next year. Holders of coffins will become opulent. Don't sell short in cemetery lots if you wouldn't become a beggar. Buy in all the tombstones you can get your hands on."

"Can this be true?" I asked.

"Worse," said O'Dowd, "even worse than this. They will next assault all the orphan asylums, and putting the managers to the sword, they will take the fatherless children and educate them as Democrats! Democrats, I say, and teach their childish voices to shout the battle cry of the unterrified."

"Felix, you have been imposed upon. It cannot be that ———"

"This base ball business is a swindle," said Felix, "a blind, a base ball deception. They merely go out and profess to play, so as to develope their muscles for the terrible deeds which they are to do. It is all fixed. The organization moves like machinery. Each one has his appointed work. The 'catchers' will go around with a lasso and rope in stray Republicans, then the 'pitchers' will pitch into them. The 'short stop' is to murder his victims quickly, and put a short stop' to their misery. The 'long stop' is to torture them on the rack—devilish engines in the shape of hat racks, which they all have ready in their houses."

"Felix, this is too horrible for———"

"The 'scorers' are to go around and pick out the victims, scoring them on the back, so that the slayers will know them. The arrangement of 'nines' is alone suspicious. Nine has always been a mysterious number. It is determined, also, that each nine is to elope with a feminine. This is modeled on the celebrated action of Romulus in the case of the Sabine women. If you recollect, Rome got up and howled on that occasion. Polygamy is to be allowed when the slaughter is over."

"There must be seme mistake here, Felix—"

"'Out on a foul' means to hit men on the head without warning, and launch them into eternity. I know all their secrets. To 'catch on the first bound,' means that some men are to be completely tied with the lasso before the crowd rushes out on them. 'Out on a fly' refers to the manner in which those who endeavor to escape by running will be treated. They will be shot dead in their tracks."

"Felix you must see the mayor about this instantly."

"'A home run' is when some frantic Republican rushes to his home and seeks refuge in the bosom of his family. These will be boiled in red-hot oil, and their skeletons sold to Democratic medical schools. 'Match games' are those where bodies of men have barricaded themselves in houses. The buildings will be undermined, the cellars filled with gunpowder, and the whole concern touched off with a slow match."

"You are certainly the victim of some wild delusion, Felix," I said.

"No, I'm not, I tell you. I know them. Those sticks they call 'bats' will be used to brain thick-headed Republicans with. They are poisoned at one end, and when they sink into your skull you are a goner without doubt."

"O pshaw! this cannot possibly be, you know."

"And you know those balls which these fellows have, sometimes in cases? Well, they are all filled with nitro-glycerine and Greek fire, and they will be thrown into Republican mass meetings. They are warranted to kill six hundred men apiece. I know the man that makes 'em."

"Oh, you are excited; lie down and try to get a nap," said I. "It will soon wear off."

"The spikes in their shoes are intended to stamp on a fellow when a base-baller gets him down and has to wait for help. The spikes run through him and pin him to the pavement, you understand. That's what they mean by 'innings' when they get one of those things. Haven't you—"

"Felix, my boy, you have been grossly deceived. It can't.———"

"Haven't you noticed those fellows often when they were playing, go to one side and drink something out of a tin cup or flask? Well that was blood!—hot blood!! they do it to make them fierce and cruel. They are at work now, all through this town, I tell you. They operate at night. They don't walk—they flit. Each man has wings.—That's what 'bat' means; they fly around and steep their hands in gore. You can often hear their peculiar cry. Every man has a deep voice. When they yell it is a base bawl. That's what they take their title from."

"Felix, you don't seem well. This can——"

"You recollect all those railroad accidents that have occurred lately? all those coal oil explosions, and earthquakes, and dog bites, and fires, and cases of billious fever? Well, that's their work. That's what they're at. I tell you that there won't be a solitary Republican alive in this town on the first of next September. That's so, now. I know; I know that——"

"Felix, this is terrible."

"That they've got grips and pass words, and all that sort of thing, and every time a club goes out of town under the pretense of playing match games, they stop and examine railroads preparatory to ripping them up, and cutting the telegraph wires. If you leave home next summer you'll never come back, mark my word."

And Felix O'Dowd withdrew and left me to meditate upon this fresh horror.

I have asked myself, over and over again, can this be? And the answer has always been yes. It is time this community was alarmed and made to understand its perilous position. By placing these facts before them I have done my duty, and probably will be sacrificed for it by the first baseballist I meet. But I am courageous and self-sacrificing. This thing must be put down, and I am ready to take the consequences of my devotion, and to save my fellow-men at the risk of my life.

N. B.—If any of my fellow-men find their hearts overflowing with gratitude, and wish to get rid of their property before the final catastrophe comes, a line sent to this office will be sure to reach me.

Treatment of Drowning Persons.

The following suggestions regarding the treatment of drowning persons are to be freely distributed by the Health Board:

If the person has been several minutes under water he will be found to have stopped breathing, while the pulse at the wrist may be wanting. This unfavorable condition does not necessarily indicate that restorative means are useless, for the heart continues to beat feebly, for a short time, after breathing has entirely ceased. It is plain that the object of treatment is to promptly stimulate the heart's action and reinduce respiration. Breathing being suspended, artificial respiration must be temporarily relied on until natural respiration can be reestablished.

The means of resuscitation should be instantly applied at the place of rescue—every second is precious, and time is misspent if occupied in conveying the body to a shelter unless it is immediately adjacent. Efforts to reanimate a body should be made, though it has not been recovered for some time after its disappearance. During the excitement of an accident no accurate measure of time may be kept—a short period may appear long—and, further, the body may have risen to the surface several times and been unnoticed.

Time is also wasted if the body is dangled in the air, feet uppermost, in the hope of expelling water from the lungs. It has been clearly shown that persons in drowning draw an insignificant amount of water into their chests, for the reason that the top of the windpipe behind the tongue closes as soon as the head is immersed. The patient suffers from the want of fresh air, and not from water on the lungs, and when removed from the water may be at first so feeble that he cannot respire. To induce breathing several methods have been advised. Of these, those recommended and devised by Dr, Sylvester and Dr. Marshall Hall have been the most highly approved—the former being the most easily understood and applied.

Treatment—Instantly place the patient on his face to allow any water in his mouth and nostrils to run out—then, as quickly put him on his back, and let one attendant, standing near the head, lean forward and grasp both arms of the patient and draw them backward over the head and down to the ground, gently, but strongly, This draws up the ribs and enlarges the chests, so that air can enter as when we inspire. Next, carry the arms down and fold them over the chest, firmly, and press on the chest to expel the air, as when we expire.

While one presses on the top of the breast, let another press upon the stomach, under the ribs, to help to empty the chest

Now repeat these up and down movements about sixteen times a minute, for that is about the number of breaths we take when well, and thus endeavor to imitate natural breathing.

During these movements endeavor to keep the tongue drawn forward so that the air can get into the windpipe, and also tickle the nose and throat with some delicate material, and apply smelling salts to the nostrils.

While these are proceeding, let others strip from the body the wet clothing, especially if the weather is cold, procuring spare garments from spectators, and rub the surface briskly from the feet toward the body. Use friction also upon the face, and if warmth is induced, dash upon it some water to rouse the patient.

Persevere in these efforts for half an hour at least, even if no life is apparent, and if the slightest evidence of vitality is induced continue until the patient can breathe comfortably without assistance.

If recovery is now sufficient to permit swallowing, a small draught of warm tea or coffee, or of weak spirits, may be allowed, but the latter must be given carefully, lest violent fever be induced.

Now let the patient be removed to the nearest comfortable shelter and be placed under medical care.

WHERE IS YOUR BOY AT NIGHT.—The practice of allowing boys to spend their evenings in the streets is one of the most ruinous, dangerous and mischievous things possible. Nothing so speedily and surely marks their course downward. They acquire, under the cover of the night, an unhealthy state of mind, vulgar and profane language, obscene practices, criminal sentiments, and a lawless, riotous bearing. Indeed, it is in the streets, after nightfall, that boys generally acquire the education and the capacity for becoming rowdy, dissolute men. Parents, do you believe it? Will you keep your children home at nights, and see that their home is made pleasant and profitable.—Exchange.

ADVICES from the Upper Missouri mention Indian hostilities along the river. The steamboats have been fired into, stock run off, and several whites killed. General Terry was at Fort Rice on June 3. Father Desmitt has gone out to induce the Indians, if possible, to come and make peace, but it is reported that they don't want peace, for then they starve, but when at war they get what they want from the whites. But they do want more ammunition.

Two sons of Stephen A. Douglas, both of whom are resident in North Carolina, are said to be members of the Republican party, the oldest the private secretary of Hon. W. W. Holden, Governor of that State.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
FRIDAY, June 12, 1868. }

Business during the week was moderately active in Crude Irons. The consumption being large, considering the advanced period of the season, with reduced supplies in first hands, and diminished receipts. The tone of the market for leading standard medium grades of Forge Irons was decidedly firmer, and as a number of the furnaces in the Mahoning and Shenango Valley have been compelled to blow out in consequence of a strike of coal miners for higher wages. Only a limited supply of raw Irons may be expected for some time to come.

RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers continue to recede steadily at this point, with scant five feet in the Monongahela, and six feet in the Allegheny. The weather yesterday was clear and pretty hot in the sun, and while this is not very good for the river, it is just what is needed to ripen the grain.

The Bayard, from Parkersburg: and Ingmar, from Wheeling, arrived and departed, and the Robt Moore cleared for Portsmouth. The St. Charles got off for Cincinnati last night, with a very fair trip.

The R C Gray, Capt. Whittaker, is filling up slowly for Cincinnati and Louisville, and will be ready to leave early next week.

The St. Marys, left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday evening.

The Glendale, it was expected would get off for St. Louis last evening, with a cargo of railroad iron.

The Wauanita, Captain Thomas Shuman, is now in turn for St. Louis, and will be the first regular packet out for that point.

The America, enroute from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, was at Cairo on Wednesday. The towboat Simpson Horner was also at Cairo the same day.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Wednesday, says: Owing to the high water, work has been discontinued on the wreck of the steamer Arabian, which lies upon the sand bar opposite Atchison. A large quantity of merchandise has been removed, but the most valuable portion of the cargo is still in the wreck.

Arrived—Lady Grace, Shamrock, Abeona and Leonidas, from the Ohio river. The Messenger leaves to-day. The Sallie arrived yesterday at St. Joseph. She left Port Benton on the 29th; met Silver Lake, June 6th, below old Fort George. The Leni Leoti is on the docks at Omaha. The boats named, and all the others afloat, were getting along well.

The Missouri was stationary at Omaha yesterday, and the Mississippi is rising at Dubuque.

A telegram, dcted Helena, says the Huntsville arrived at Benton on the 1st instant, and the Antelope on the 2d. The Henry Adkins started down on the 2d. The Peninah, Mountaineer and Antelope left Benton for St. Louis en the 4th.

Further advices from the Upper Missouri mention Indian hostilities along the river. Steamboats have been fired into, stock run off, and several whites killed.

A late Memphis paper has the following: A knotty case has arisen within the past few days, which will give some work no doubt, to our shrewd limbs of the law. The creditors of a merchant of this city have been trying to force him into bankruptcy. Armed with the proper papers, an officer from Cincinnati proceeded to a point in Arkansas, where the aforesaid, merchant has a store, and seized his stock, which was brought around on the last trip of the Liberty.

The officer, fearing a replevin if the goods were landed here, had them put on board the Des Arc, lying on the opposite side of the river at Hopefield, until he could get a Cincinnati boat to take them. The Memphis merchant, hearing of the whereabouts of his stock, had papers served upon Capt. Elliot, owning the Des Arc, enjoining him from letting the goods go out of his possession. They were carried off, however, in the night, and now Capt. Elliot is held responsible for them. Whether the fact that the notice was served on the Captain in this State while his boat was in Arkansas, or that the Des Arc was turned into a wharfboat without his consent, will change the face of matters or not has yet to be learned.

The St. Joseph (Mo.) Union, of Friday, says: Shortly after seven o'clock last evening, one of the most terrific storms swept over the city that has been known in this region for years. The steamer Emilie, belonging to the Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad Company's packet line, which was moored at the lower landing, was torn to pieces, a portion of the cabin being carried over the bank to the railroad track, many rods distant. Her texas and smoke stacks lie between the dismantled hull and the river's bank, and she is completely stripped of everything above the boiler deck, save her engines and machinery.

THE BRIDGES OVER THE OHIO.—The memorial to Congress of the steamboat captains and pilots on the Ohio river, requesting that no bridge shall be erected over the Ohio with less than 500 feet span, has been published in pamphlet form, and is an interesting document. As an example of the injury done to navigation by short span bridges, they instance the Steubenville bridge. The memorial says no coal fleet ever leaves Pittsburg without the owners and pilots carefully considering the time they will probably have to pass between these piers; and in spite of every care coal fleets do strike upon them, sink boats, and cause a heavy loss to the coal trade.

It also contains some interesting facts relative to the dimensions of the coal fleets, obtained from practical men.

Mr. Joseph Walton reports the tows of the steamer Coal City, of 13 barges, aggregating in width 192 feet, length 420 feet, and carrying 105,000 bushels.

Mr. Thomas Fawcett states a tow of coal-boats, by the steamer Boaz, consisting of nine coal and, two fuel boats, making the dimensions 140 feet wide and 490 feet long, the draught being 7 feet. The amount carried was 200,000 bushels.

Mr. Brown also states that his loss last year, by the detention of his boats, occasioned by the faulty construction of the Steubenville bridge, was over $8,000, without including losses arising from collision with the piers.

Mr. B. F. Wilson reports the width of his coal tows at 110 to 124 feet, when they tow in three lengths, and 132 to 140 feet when they tow in two lengths; and respectively 350 and 500 in length. Messrs. R. & J. Watson report the regular tows of the steamer Ajax as 250 feet wide, 600 feet long, 7 feet deep, carrying 336,000 bushels. This is equal to 13,440 tons. Mr. W. H. Brown reports the tows of the steamer Shark as 14 barges, length 585 feet, width 125 feet, contents 160,000 bushels; steamer Mary Alice, 12 boats, length 530 feet, width 150 feet, contents 240,000 bushels.

To run a tow 250 feet wide and 600 feet long in a rapid river, exposed to cross current, between piers 300 feet apart, is an operation too hazardous to be undertaken. To reduce the tow to such dimensions as would secure a safe passage would greatly enhance the cost of transportation. Cheap fuel and cheap freights are subjects in which all are deeply interested, and the above facts demonstrate the fact that short span bridges are detrimental to both.

Gold closed in New York yesterday at 140@140⅛.

The New York World says that negro suffrage will be a settled question after the next election. The Pittsburgh Post says it will not be. We are very much embarrassed to know which is the higher Democratic authority.

The Cincinnati Commercial states that it is very unlikely that Mr. Groesbeck would "accept the Attorney Generalship, Secretaryship of the Treasury, or any other of the Cabinet offices, or any of the foreign missions, with which his name has been associated."

Seven reconstructed States will, on or before the 22d inst., be fully restored to their "practical relations" and duly represented in both branches of Congress, upon the basis of Impartial Suffrage. Out of this state of facts, a very serious embarrassment will be presented to the National Democratic Convention.

Ohio Republicans are getting into harness. Arrangements are completed for an early organization of the counties, and opening the campaign with the month of July. Our Buckeye brethren may be depended upon, to give a good account of themselves in October, and in November they will strike a still more satisfactory balance with Copperheadism.

What has become of the Investigation Committee appointed by the Senate last week, to inquire into the alleged corruptions of members of that body? Is the inquisition to be smothered? Grave accusations were publicly and responsibly preferred, and a Committee was formally designated to investigate them. Since then nothing has been heard of the matter.

Of eighteen Generals and Colonels who signed a call published in the National Intelligencer of the 5th, for a Conservative Soldiers' Convention, but four were entitled to claim the titular rank. The rest were either of a rank below Colonel when they left the service early in the war, or had been discharged from the army for the public good, or had not been in the service at all.

The Democratic journals which urge Grant's resignation of his military office, forget that Judge Woodward did not resign, while a candidate in this State last year, and that McClellan, the Democratic candidate in '64 for the Presidency, did not resign until Nov. 8th, the day of the election. We quote these not as examples, but as admonitions to consistency in the Democracy.

If the New York World would consult the Pittsburgh Post, as faithfully as the Post managers pore over the columns of the World, it might not heed the counsel of its Pittsburgh cotemporary, but it would certainly aim to escape the fate which, last Wednesday, exhibited our organ of repudiation itself repudiated by the Democracy. If the editors of the World read the Post, they are evidently profiting by the deplorable example.

The House concurs in the Senate amendments to the Omnibus Restoration bill and it has gone to the President. A motion to strike out Alabama failed, after an interesting debate. If not approved by the President before the 22d inst. it will become a law, with or without his veto, later developments indicating a two-thirds majority in its favor in each House. Senator Ross states officially that the President will allow these bills to become laws without his approval.

Last night we received from the enterprising agent of the Associated Press at St. Louis, a fulsome advertisement of a musical prodigy about to make a tour this way. To secure publication such news should pass through the counting room of a well conducted newspaper. The Associated Press agents in different parts of the country have, of late, abused their positions and converted their responsible offices as news gatherers into advertising agencies. We do not pay for such intelligence. The Association should look after them.

The Copperhead press of Ohio severely denounce, as partizan, the recent decision of the Supreme Court of that State, against the flagrantly unconstitutional suffrage law enacted by the Democratic majority in the last Legislature. But judges of all parties, in that State, seem to entertain no doubts on the legal question, another, and this time a well-known and ultra Democrat, Judge Wright, of the Perry Common Pleas, having reiterated the same decision. Democratic leaders in the Legislature were distinctly warned of the results, but persisted in their reckless determination. They may now realize the extent of their folly.

THE RING-STREAKED AND SPECKLED.

Emulating the wisdom of the Hebrew patriarch, who gat for himself great gains by his management of Laban's flocks, the New York World and its clique of bondholding Democrats are setting up curiously variegated standards before the docile masses of that party just now. The old dogma of "a white man's government" is artistically diversified with the colored suffrage stripe, regrets for a long exclusion from power and office are tempered with artful suggestions of the feasibility of regaining the flesh-pots, the prejudices of the North are to be amalgamated with the more solid value of the freedmen's votes, and the ring-streaked and speckled compound of cunning, duplicity and cupidity, approved by the unfaithful shepherds as the sure expedient for regaining power in the land, is set up to be admired by the flocks gathering in at the New York Convention.

That newspaper—a very able one and justly regarded as monopolizing a leading share of the brains of Democratic journalism—has recently published very elaborate and persuasive articles which are accepted on all hands as intended to promote the interests of Mr. Chase as a candidate for the Democratic nomination. Thus generally understood to be an official manifesto of the wiser leaders of the party, the declarations of the World in behalf of colored suffrage and Southern reconstruction as accomplished facts are acquiesced in by many of the Democratic papers, as accurately foreshadowing the transactions of the Convention to meet next month. Here and there, to be sure, are journals, edited by people who cannot see an inch beyond their noses, which still cling to the old exploded tenets, and maintain a noisy clamor for the nomination of one or another of the played out and superannuated politicians who, in former campaigns, have led the party to defeat after defeat, but there is little doubt that the wiser and more practical counsels of that class, the politicians of to-day, whom the World represents, will be potent and probably decisive, when the Convention comes to pronounce its conclusions. The World prefers, as "between settled and unsettled questions, between dead and live issues," to adopt the former. It proceeds:

> As a question of Federal policy the negro suffrage question will be dead from the moment the Southern States are readmitted. The Federal Government will have no occasion to act on that subject during the next Presidential term.

This is a very sensible way of putting it that the suffrage question is on the brink of a final and complete solution, and the howl for "a white man's government" is about to be silenced forever. The World re-asserts, in its issue of the 11th, its declaration that Chase's principle of "equal rights for all" is the fundamental feature of the Democratic faith, and commends, in equally forcible language, his "hostility to any action by national parties, as such, upon that question of suffrage which the Constitution expressly reserves to the States, as States." This is live doctrine, the World thinks, and the Convention will be governed accordingly.

As we have said, here and there may be found occasionally a Democratic journal which protests against these practical expositions of Democratic duty, but, for the most part, such journals have little or no influence, and, indeed, are often found to be repudiated by the party in their own localities, and entirely ignored by the young and active politicians who run the Democratic machine this year. The latter are of opinion that the ring-streaked and speckled policy may win, while any other is sure to fail, and such, in due time, will be the prevailing hue of the Democracy.

The Pittsburgh Post trusts that the Democratic Convention at New York will manfully:

> Declare that it will aid and assist with the whole power of the Government the white men in the South to re-establish the State Governments as they existed at the outbreak of the rebellion, excepting only the existence of slavery, which has been abolished by the amendment. * * * * We trust also that the Convention will give fair notice that white men's votes, and white men's votes alone are going to be counted at the Presidential election.

This is certainly a very "candid and outspoken" proclamation of our neighbor's ideas of practical Democracy to-day. It wants the old rebel State governments reestablished, and it advocates the exclusion of the reconstructed States from the next Electoral College. Nothing more explicit could be asked for. But suppose that the Post, which the Democracy of its county repudiated the other day, should be repudiated a second time, at New York; would it then find time to make an honest correction of its mis-statement charging the black-mailing operations of government office-holders upon the Republican party?

Commissioner Rollins had too high a regard for the public interests to gratify the President by an unconditional resignation, which would have enabled Mr. Johnson to control the office, in the interests, perhaps, of the whisky ring, until the Senate should have confirmed any nomination he might see fit to make. His resignation is expressly made to take effect "as soon as his successor shall be appointed and duly qualified." This retains the direction of the Bureau as at present, until a successor shall have been approved by the Senate. Very naturally, the President finds himself cornered, and has, it seems, induced Mr. McCulloch to return the resignation to the Commissioner. The ostensible excuse for this is that it refers disparagingly to our immaculate President; the real hope is that Mr. Rollins may now offer an unconditional resignation. They are mistaken in their man.

Ohio Democrats are not unanimous for Pendleton. A meeting of leading politicians of the State was held at Cincinnati on Wednesday, of which the Chronicle says:

> The sentiment of the meeting was in favor of Mr. Pendleton as the Democratic standard-bearer, but not unanimously so. There was a decided feeling expressed for Mr. Chase by some of the gentlemen from other parts of the State. It was also stated, by one of the knowing ones, that neither Mr. Pendleton or Mr. Chase would be the nominee of the Convention, but that a new and popular man, not now in the minds of the people, would probably be presented to the Convention at the proper time, and would sweep the field. The name of this great unknown was not given. Perhaps it is Woolly.

THE PHILADELPHIA NOMINATIONS.

The Republicans of Philadelphia inaugurated, this week, a decided change in the manner of holding their nominating conventions. In accordance with the regulations recently adopted by the Executive Committees, and, for the purpose of preventing "a log rolling" combination among candidates, the duty of selecting the nominees was committed, not to one Convention for all offices, but for each office to a special Convention of its own. Consequently, on Wednesday, thirty-three Conventions, embracing over eighteen hundred delegates were simultaneously in session. Combinations and corrupt trafficking between delegates, to secure the control of more than one nomination on the general ticket, were entirely prevented and the votes of each body were a fair trial of strength between the friends of the respective aspirants for one office only. The Republican journals of the city all concur in pronouncing the new arrangement a decided success. The following paragraph from the North American expresses the general sentiment of its Republican cotemporaries:

> For seveal weeks past the city has been deeply agitated by efforts to procure a radical purgation of our system of local nominations. The result shows that the effort has been productive of much good, although the influence of intrigue, corruption and chicanery embarrassed the movement at every step. Let every good Republican sustain the courageous effort of the reformers, and we shall have our offices filled by men who will in all respects truly represent the interests of our city.

With a single exception the Conventions accomplished the work harmoniously, and the nominees will command the heartiest support of the re-united Republicans of that city. There is reason to believe that the excepted case, the struggle for the District Attorneyship, upon which an open rupture occurred, will yet be arranged in accordance with the true interests of the party.

We append a few paragraphs from the Philadelphia journals, to show how the nominations were received:

> The Republican Conventions yesterday met, fulfilled their appointed labors, and dissolved. The machinery of freemen was working on a grand scale, and the Republican party may well congratulate itself on the results. Our standard-bearers chosen, our lines formed, it but remains for us to close up the ranks and move forward to victory.—Press.
>
> Taken in all points of view, the proceedings were harmonious, except in a single instance, and a ticket was presented, the majority of names upon which will be declared unexceptionable.—Inquirer.
>
> For Mayor, the Radicals nominate General Hector Tyndale. We recognize in General Tyndale a gentleman of good reputation as a citizen and a soldier, but in politics he is of the extremest Radical sect, and he has no experience, we believe in our municipal affairs.—Age (Dem.).
>
> The nominations for Congress are perfectly satisfactory. Benjamin L. Berry, who has received the nomination in the First District, is a gentleman of excellent character, enterprise and ability, a lifelong citizen of the District, and favorably known to all its inhabitants. He will poll a strong vote. In the Second, Third and Fourth Districts the present incumbents, Hon. Charles O'Neill, Hon. Leonard Myers and Hon. William D. Kelley, have received the nominations, with scarcely any opposition against them. This is a certificate of the satisfaction of their constituents with their public course, which is well deserved.—Inquirer.
>
> William D. Kelley and Leonard Myers, Representatives from the Keystone State to the National Congress, have once more been nominated by their constituents. These gentlemen have earned for themselves a reputation for loyalty and devotion to the cause of Freedom and Right, which is a sure passport to any position within the gift of the voters of their respective districts.—N. Y. Tribune.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Annual Convention of the Pittsburgh Diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was held in Trinity Church, this city, commencing Tuesday morning and closing Thursday evening. Rt. Rev. Bishop Kerfoot presided. The early part of Tuesday was spent in perfecting the organization, after which the annual address was read by the Bishop. It was an able and interesting paper setting forth in detail very interesting facts in regard to the diocese. On the second day the charters of St. Johns' Church, Erie, and All Saints' Church, Pittsburgh, were presented, and quite a lengthy discussion ensued, and finally the matter was postponed until the next meeting of the Convention. The Special Committee on Education reported a series of resolutions, in brief, recommending the establishment of Parochial Schools in every parish, and Academic Schools for boys and girls; the erection of a University in the Diocese; urging the clergy and laity to use their influence as far as possible in the Public Schools; encouraging young men to enter the ministry, and the reading of the report to the respective congregations, which were adopted. A resolution was adopted to exclude parishes from representation in the Convention which failed to pay their assessments for more than one year. The report of the Board of Missions shows that since the foundation of the diocese, six self-sustaining parishes have been created, and many of the missions have been self-sustaining, and out of the forty-four parishes all have contributed to the Board save three. Thursday morning the Convention spent considerable time on the admission of All Saints' Church, with action as stated. Resolutions were adopted to consider the propriety of securing a residence for the Bishop, and suggesting that such funds as are contributed for the relief of clergymen and the widows and orphans of clergymen be invested by the Finance Committee as a nucleus for a fund for the purposes aforesaid. The members of the Convention visited Dixmont in the afternoon in a special train provided by General Cass, President of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company. The evening and closing session was mainly devoted to the election of Committees, Deputies to General Convention, and officers of different Church organizations. After some matters of local interest were disposed of, the Convention adjourned to meet in Trinity Church, Pittsburgh, June 9th, 1869.

The General Synod of the Reformed (Dutch) Church met at Hudson, N. Y., June 3d, and adjourned a day or two ago. Rev. E. S. Porter, D. D., the late able editor of the Christian Intelligencer, was elected President. The Synodical sermon was preached on the evening of the first day's session by Rev. T. C. Strong, D. D.,—subject: "The duties of clergymen in their sacred capacity." Considerable time for two or three days of the early part of its session was devoted to hearing addresses from the representatives of other bodies. Friday, the third day, the subject of changing the name was introduced in the form of resolutions, requesting the President and Stated Clerk to notify the Legislature of New York of the changes which had been made in the Constitution in regard to its ecclesiastical title, and request that the civil action shall be conformed to the ecclesiastical action of the Church. After some discussion, the question was put, and the resolutions were adopted unanimously, with a single exception. This finally settles this matter. The Watchman and Reflector, referring to this body, says they have now no great question at issue, but are resting and recuperating after the protracted and exhausting effort with which they lately threw off the incumbrance of their outlandish name. We are pleased to see that the Intelligencer, organ of that denomination, is commended to the people as a paper worthy of liberal patronage.

President Johnson is to be made the subject of prayer by the English Episcopalians, the Bishop of London having ordered that he be included in the prayers of the Church of England for the Queen.

The Old School General Assembly adopted resolutions, recognizing the Southern Church as an Independent Presbyterian Church, in which regret is expressed by the Assembly at their departure from them. The difficulties of the Border States are placed in the hands of the Kentucky and Missouri Synods for settlement.

The Ohio Christian (Disciples) Society and Ohio Sunday School Association met some days since in Cincinnati. The reports represent the Society in a healthy pecuniary condition. During the seventeen years operations of the Home Society, 13,950 converts have been made; 73 new Churches organized, and $80,820.70 expended.

Notwithstanding the action of the Rhode Island State Baptist Convention, un-churching the Second Baptist Church, at Newport for open communion with other denominations, the pastor of that Church, Rev. Chas. Malcolm, is still adhering to the practice of giving a general invitation to all Christians to their communion table.

The Congregational Church in Harlem, New York, not only allow the sisters to vote, but, by a vote of four to one, have decided that they are eligible to office. This action entitles women to be pastor, deacons, or trustees, as well as devout members.

Dr. Nathans, a Jewish Rabbi, advocates a union between Jews and Unitarians, believeing that such a combination of Jews and liberal Unitarians would enable them to disseminate throughout the world those truths in religion which are advocated by all rational men and welcome to all the children of God. These should be in the form of tracts, pamphlets and such like. He thinks that Judaism has always been a true indicator of pure, clear Unitarianism.

At the late anniversary of the Church of the Holy Trinity, (N. Y.) Rev. S. H. Tyng, Jr., pastor, it was stated that four years ago the school commenced with ten scholars, and now the Church schools and their three, chapel schools report twelve hundred in attendance.

The Bethel Sunday Schools, of Cincinnati, claims to be the largest in the United States, and from the figures the claim appears to be a just one. The average attendance in hot weather is eleven hundred, and during the winter eighteen hundred, with an average for the year exceeding eighteen hundred. The attendance for a single Sabbath reached twenty-two hundred and fifty.

The contributions for benevolent purposes, during the last year, by the three Synods comprising the German Reformed Church in the United States, amounted to $65,080,70. This shows an increase of $4,208,24 over the amount reported for 1866, and also an augmentation over the contributions for 1865, of more than $20,000.

The late General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church authorized a Commission of ministers and laymen to erect a new building in New York City for the accommodation of the publishing, missionary, and other connectional interests, at a cost not to exceed one million of dollars. The valuable and extersive property of the Book Concern on Mulberry street is insufficient for the wants of the Church. This Church is adopting a liberal policy in relation to its publishing interests. The Western Book Concern owns a valuable property in the heart of the city of Cincinnati, with immense buildings. Large Book Depositories have lately been erected at Chicago, Philadelphia, and San Francisco, and the Book Depository and Advocate building in this city, in course of erecting at a cost of nearly sixty thousand dollars, forms a part of this aggressive policy. It is expected property will be bought and buildings erected at Baltimore, Boston, St. Louis, Buffalo, and some points in the South, Nashville, Tennessee, and Atlanta, Georgia, for publishing and other Church interests.

It is urged on all hands that in so far as it appears to be a foregone conclusion that the Southern States are to participate in the election, it is important that the negro should be divided. Mr. Chase certainly will receive as many of their votes, if not more, than General Grant. Mr. Chase is a free trader, and what is considered of the greatest moment, is that he has the entire banking interest of the country at his back, and would really be the best man to straighten out the finances of the country, which first became muddled under his administration of the Treasury. Another argument put forth by the Democrats is that it would be almost useless to have one of their own in the Presidential chair, while the Senate is, for the next four years at least, to remain in its present political complexion. With Mr. Chase in the White House, it is quite likely that a working majority can be obtained along with the Conservative Republicans, and that an administration thus inaugurated would prove efficient, and tend to reconcile the various conflicting interests of the country. These are the arguments one hears now all around in this city, and they cannot fail to have their effect upon the delegates shortly to arrive in this city.—Correspondence Charleston Courier.

The official returns of the Florida election have not been published. Those received by the Republican State Committee are as follows: For the Constitution, 14,520; against, 9,401. For Governor, Reed (Rep.) received 14,170; Scott (Dem.), 7,852, and Walker (Ind.), 2,292 votes. The total number of voters registered was 31,498, of whom 13,598 were white, and 17,800 colored. The vote cast was 24,319, and the Republican majority 4,026. The Senate stands 16 Republicans to 8 Democrats, and the House, 37 Republicans to 15 Democrats. This election meets on the 15th, and will elect U. Senators on the 16th.

The route from Lake Superior to the Red River is attracting the attention of the New Dominion Government, and as a preliminary, Mr. Dawson, an Engineer, was sent to survey the projected line of communication. Mr. Dawson's report has just been made public. He recommends that the line should be opened in the cheapest and most expeditious manner at once. The total distance from Thunder Bay on Lake Superior to Fort Garry is 463 miles, comprising 332 miles of navigable water and 131 miles of land travel. Ninety miles of the latter would be between Fort Garry and the Lake of the Woods, where there is abundant means of transport, and twenty-five miles between Thunder Bay and Dog Lake, where horses and wagons could easily be provided. The principal part of the land carriage would therefore be at each end, with water carriage intermediate. The cost of opening communication with Fort Garry in this manner is set down at $166,000 over and above the small appropriation made last year. The total trade of the Red River and Hudson's Bay territory is estimated at $4,000,000 annually, most of which is now done with the State of Minnesota.

During the past few days, a Pendleton movement has also sprung up in this city, but it is fictitious. Three or four clubs have been started by young Democrats in several of the wards, with money furnished from the West. Mr. Pendleton, or perhaps his friends, have agents in this city who distribute greenbacks to young spouters that can always be found ready to get up clubs to order, if only somebody will pay for the room, the printing, and, if necessary, a band. These men make a business of it, especially during an exciting Presidential Convention. If, therefore, you hear of a Pendleton movement in the metropolis, put it down as a fraud. There is no such movement here, except what is paid for, and there never can be any, unless, inded, he should get the nomination, for which there does not exist any probability just now.—N. Y. Letter to Charleston Courier.

We have already published Mr. Colfax's letter, denying the story that he once told a soldier, that he had no time "to fool with soldiers." Chaplain Lozier, writing to the Indianapolis Journal, after referring to the above, says that Mr. Colfax, on one occasion, gave the Indiana Sanitary Commission $100, at another time sent the same sum, and once on the adjournment of Congress during the war, gave his entire mileage, $690, for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers. When the Soldiers' Home Association were needing contributions for the support of the hospital, he lectured all over the country for its benefit.

The Democratic leaders, just now are in the anxious and hopeful condition of that historical old maid who went into the woods to pray. They want a candidate—she wanted a husband. Crooking her aged and stiffening knees at the foot of a hemlock tree, she prayed long and earnestly that Heaven would send her a man. A sleepy owl in the branches above just then cried out, "Hoo! Hoo! Hoo!" "Any body good Lord!" responded the anxious virgin.—New York Tribune.

Democratic fishmongers are now anxiously trying to solve the problem whether it will pay to buy decayed Salmon. The fish is tough to masticate, for they must needs chew bones and all, and the effect on the stomach would be nauseating in the extreme. There are two questions to decide: Whether they can keep the "critter" down, and whether, when down, his digestion will add any vigor to the wasted and weak system.

The New York Sun calls attention to the fact that Mr. Chase, when elected to his first term in the Senate, and afterward as Governor of his State, was chosen in each case by a coalition, and owes every important step of his political preferment to the votes of the original and simon-pure Democrats, so that there is nothing in his antecedents to prevent their supporting him now.

SCIENCE ADVANCES.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, &c., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them. There have been many spurious Bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while HOSTETTER'S has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health and strength. For many years we have watched the steady progress of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS in public estimation, and its beneficent effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach, of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation after years of careful study and sitting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only prepartion of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES.

DR. KEYSER says: "You want air, not physic; you want pure air, not medicated air; you want plenty of nutrition, such as plenty of meat and bread will give; physic has no nutriment; gasping for air cannot cure you; monkey capers in a gymnasium cannot cure you; and stimulants cannot cure you. If you want to get well, go in for BEEF AND OUT-DOOR AIR."—Republic.

He says further: Don't put off the first symptoms. "A little leak may sink a great ship;" a small sore in the throat, lungs or liver will soon involve the whole body. How often do we see people put off for a year or two what in the beginning could have been remedied for a trifle. The Doctor's advice is, and always has been, attend to the first symptoms of disease. Do not let the constitution become a wreck before you begin to mend; if you do, ten to one there will be no remedy. There is a remedy for every disease if taken in time. A slight sore throat or cough may be removed with comparatively little trouble; but a constitution, sinking and breaking to pieces by allowing these little troubles to accumulate is not so easy. Dr. Keyser's mode of lung sounding is unique, and as thorough as it is unique. There is not a spot or space over the whole surface of the lungs that he does not sound and investigate, and by so doing is enabled to supply the appropriate remedy.

"I have used the Welcome Hay Rake, manufactured by W. W. Wallace, Pittsburgh, Pa., and recommend it to farmers. It is good in light and heavy hay; is easy on man and horse; is a complete gleaner of grain and stubble; is simple in construction and easily kept in order.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSSDAY, June 11, 1868.

The reduction with gold reserve of the New York banks, has made the article scarce in the market, and caused a slight advance in the premium to-day. The shipments to Europe, have not yet materially increased, but any demand for exchange would lead to heavy shipments of gold. The approach of the heavy payment of July Coupons, had give rise to a more speculative disposition, quite common before heavy disburrsements, and large sales are made for future delivery at lower rates. A very important item in our estimate of the balance of trade is generally overlooked; it is the large amounts of money taken to Europe by pleasure seekers, of which generally no approximate calculation can be made. The amounts brought in the country by imigrants, is generally hoarded to a large extent, either in first hand or by small speculators, and does not come direct into our calculation.

In government securities a dull and lower market has to be reported with a still downward tendency, and no ivestment at all. The stagnation in business compels many a small holder of bonds to dispose of his, the present price being considered very favorable.

Stocks are improving, and all the principal Railroad shares are higher. Express shares dull and lower, and Mining shares strong, quite active and higher.

Business dull, and money scarcer by a light demand.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 140⅛; 1881 bonds, 116⅝; 1862 5-20s, 111⅜; 1864 do, 109⅝; 1865 do, 109⅞; Consols, 112¼; 10-40s, 105⅜; 7-30s, 109.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 87¼; Fort Wayne, 111¼; North Western, common 69; North Western—preferred, 81⅝; New York Central, 134½; Erie, 69⅛; Old Southern, 89⅝; Ohio & Mississippi, 29⅝; Merchants Union Express, 28½; Western Union Telegraph, 37¾. Mining Shares—Corydon, 32; Quartz Hill, 120.

—The crops on the line of the Michigan Central Railroad are looking finely. Some of the very early varieties of wheat are headed out. Vegetation is at least 10 days more forward at the west end of the road than it is at Detroit. The corn is all up, but the wet gives it a yellow color; it needs less rain and more heat. The grass crop is very large, and makes a show for the largest crop of hay that has been cut in the State. The oat crop is doing well, and makes a much better show than last year at this time. At least double the number of acres of potatoes are planted this year over last year, and by some it is estimated that there are four acres to one of last year. The crop seems to be coming on well. But little barley has been sown. The hop crop indicates a large amount. Nearly double the number of acres was planted to hops a year ago above those that were in bearing last year. All the other crops of both agricultural and horticultural products are giving a show that indicates an abundant crop. In Southern Illinois the corn is just fairly up, and in many places the planting is not finished yet; but then the appearance of the extensive fields of heavy waving wheat seems to make amends for the poor show for corn. The wheat stands thick on the ground, is very flourishing, and is well headed out, as far north as Springfield, and on every hand presents a magnificent appearance. The wheat and oat crop in Adams county never was better at this season. It is large and very promising, and threatens to be heavy and tangled, and hard to harvest. At Janesville, Wisconsin, crops never looked finer, and a great promise of heavy straw. The ground is now well covered so that wheat and oats cannot suffer from drouth. At Des Moines, Wisconsin, the farmers have an army of grasshoppers to contend with. In some cases large fields of wheat are entirely destroyed, and close beside will be another field not harmed in the least. It begins to look squally, and only on account of the hoppers. One thing seems sure, either the grass hoppers or the crops must soon vanish.

IRON AND NAILS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 12, 1868.

During the past week the demand for Iron and Nails has been very good. Nearly all the mills are running their full capacity. Manufacturers at present prices have but little margin to work on. The stock of nails is much reduced, and prices are firm at previous quotations. Large shipments of Sheet Iron to the eastern markets has nearly exhausted the surplus stock in this market, and if any demand continues, the sheet mills will be employed throughout the season at fair margins to manufacturers.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFIFCE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 12, 1868.

The summer season has now fairly set in, and we may expect business to be very dull during the next sixty days and perhaps longer. Farmers, in the meantime, will be busily engaged with their crops, and the country trade will therefore be very light, and many houses having a country business almost exclusively, will as usual at that season of the year, experience a general stagnation. The city trade will also be very light, and, as we have already stated, a general stagnation in business is likely to ensue for several weeks to come.

BUTTER—Prime to choice Roll Butter is scarce, and with an improved demand, the market is rather firm and prices a shade higher; we now quote at 23 to 25.

EGGS—In light supply and firm but unchanged at 25, some holders asking 26.

HAY—Continues dull and drooping; sales at Allegheny Diamond Scales of 49 loads at $16 to $20 per ton, and 3 loads Straw at $15.

CORN HUSKS—Sales at 3½c per lb.

GBAIN—There is no improvement in the demand for Wheat, and the market is dull but unchanged; we continue to quote Red Winter at $2,30 to $2,35, and 5 to 8c higher for White. Oats a shade firmer, under the influence of diminished arrivals, though prices are unchanged—78 to 80c on track and wharf, and 82 to 83c, in store; sale of 1 car at 79c. Ear Corn is plenty and very dull; sale of 1 car in bulk at $1,03. Prime Ear Corn is scarce and in good local demand at $1,09 to $1,10. Rye is a shade firmer, although there is no improvement in the demand; we continue to quote at $1,50 to $1,55.

MILL FEED—Is very dull, and is likely to continue so while pasture continues as it is at present; Middlings may be quoted nominally at $1,80 to $2, as to quality, and Bran at $1,40 to $1,50.

CHEESE—Sales of Hamburg at 14c, and Factory at 15c.

POTATOES—Exceedingly dull but unchanged; small sales in store at $1,30 to $1,35. New crop may be quoted at $7,50 to $8 per bbl.

FLOUR—Is very dull, with a drooping tendency; bakers and retailers who usually buy from 10 to 20 barrels at a time, now order from 3 to 5, being apprehensive that prices will be much lower, and they want to keep as little on hand as possible. We now quote at $10 to $10,50 for Spring Wheat; $11 to $11,50 for Winter Wheat; sale of "City Mills Springfield at $11,50; "White Star," $11; "Clark's," $10,50, and "Scars," $10,50. Rye Flour, $9,50 to $10.

LARD OIL—Is quoted at $1,20 to $1,22 for No. 2, and $1,43 to $1,45 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged; 13½c for Shoulders; 16½c to 17½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 19 to 20c for Plain and Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 18 to 18½c, for prime kettle rendered. Mess Pork, $28 to $28,50.

ASHES—Sales of common Soda Ash at 4½c, and refined at 5c. Pearls, 10c.

PIG LEAD—Sales at 10c.

BROOMS—Sales of 100 dozen No. 2 Western at $2,50 per dozen.

CIDER—Sales 600 bbls "hard" at $6 per barrel.

VINEGAR—Sales 90 bbls warranted pure Cider Vinegar at 25c.

LIME—Is sellidg at $2 per bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 12, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was considerably firmer, and under the influence of an increased demand, spot oil is strong at an advance of fully a quarter of a cent. Sale of 1,400 and 500 bbls, on spot, at 12c; 1,000 bbls for July or August, seller's option, at 12c, and 1,000 bbls for all the year, buyers's option, at 13½c. Late in the day, there appeared to be considerable inquiry for spot oil at 12c, and, so far as we could learn, but few, if any, seller's below 12½c.

REFINED—There was also a much stronger feeling apparent in the market for bonded oil to-day, and while the demand was more active, as yet, there has been no material advance, compared with Thursday. We can report a line of 500 each, running from August to December, at 32c, and 500 for the first half of July, at 32c. The last half of June is in request at 30½c; and we heard of an offer to buy the last of July and the first half of August at 32c.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

NEW YORK, June 12.—Weather gloomy and trade no better. Prices for light and fancy styles of delaines, of least desirable patterns, are reduced to 15c, and the most popular makes of prints to 12½c. Such as Cocheco, Lunnell's and Oriental cannot be had for less than 13½, except dark styles. Poor styles of Glassgow Gingham sell at 14c; Clyde at 10c. Pepperell Jeans are off to 15c; Manchester Denems to 21½. Amoskeag stripes at 23½a24½. Methurn A. A. ticks at 31½. Brown and bleached muslins and drills are generally steady, with light request.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Harpers' History of the Great Rebellion. Published by Harper & Bros., New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

As this great undertaking draws towards a close, its excellent features improves and becomes intensely interesting. The four numbers just received contains the Battle of Nashville, Sherman's Campaign and March to the Sea, Seige of Petersburgh, Campaign in Virginia, Recovery of the Atlantic Coast, Wilmington, Charleston, Mobile Campaign, Wilson's and Stoneman's Raids, and the Capture of Petersburgh and Richmond. Three more numbers will conclude the work, comprising thirty-five numbers. It is about the same form as Harpers Weekly, with full page cuts of distinguished military and civil officers, battles, etc., and full of maps. The historical part is carefully prepared and is reliable. The value of this history will increase from year to year upon its intrinsic merits.

Beaumarchais. An Historical Novel. By A. E. Brachvogel, author of "Narcissus," "Benoni," etc. Translated from the German, by Thérèse J. Radford. Illustrated by Gaston Fay. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York.

There is a novelty about this work that seizes the reader's attention at the outset. Like the Mulbach historical novels, there are woven romance and history in such harmonious blending that it possesses unusual interest. Characters appear in the well constructed plot that have occupied prominence in history. There is an abandon style in the work that would be objectionable were it not that it faithfully represents the age in which the leading characters lived. The volume is handsomely illustrated by Gaston Fay.

Old Deccan Days, or Hindoo Fairy Legends current in Southern India. Collected from oral tradition, by M. Frere. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

This is a singular book in some respects, and yet there is much in it to commend, especially to young people. People who are interested and fond of the peculiarities of Indian social life, will find much in this volume to instruct and amuse. These legends are drawn from the genuine traditions of the common people of the Deccan. There are also oriental features, which are interesting and exciting, and useful lessons may be learned from this little volume, especially of the lore of that far off country. There is a lively, piquancy of style about the work which commends it.

Folly as it Flies; Hit At by Fanny Fern. Published by G. W. Carlton & Co., New York. For sale by W. A. Gildenfenny, Pittsburgh.

The dedication is significant and reads thus: "To my friend Robert Bonner, editor of the New York Ledger—For fourteen years, the team of Bonner and Fern, has trotted over the road at 2:40 pace, without a snap of the harness, or a hitch of the wheels—Plenty of oats, and a skilful rein, the secret." The Preface is also characteristic. "Yours truly, Fanny Fern." The book consists of twenty-five chapters on different topics, and without any special relation to each other. The peculiar style of the author is seen on every page, and we would advise every lover of rich and racy writing, tinged with sarcasm and tartness, to buy the book, and judge of its merits for themselves. Under the keen edge of irony, there is couched many lessons worthy to be written in words of gold, and worthy of commendation.

"Foul Play." A Novel. By Charles Reade and Dion Boucicault. With illustrations by George Du Maurier. Published by Tickner and Fields, Boston.

This remarkable story has appeared in Every Saturday from week to week for months past. It contains the characteristic excellencies of both of these popular authors. It is represented by a critic, for its elaborate and skilfully managed plot, its thronging incidents, its highly dramatic situations, its striking and well defined characters, and the vigor and vivid picturesqueness of its style.

One Day's Weaving. By Lynde Palmer. Author of "Good Fight," Drifting and Steering," etc. Published by Moore & Sons, Troy, N. Y., and Wyncoop & Sherwood, New York.

This is one of the capital "Magnet Stories" series. It is well suited for young people, and admirably adapted for Sunday School Libraries. It beautifully illustrates the ugliness of Pride and beauty of Love. Lessons are taught, too, that are calculated to do good, and elevate youthful minds to noble deeds.

Felter's Intellectual Arithmetic. Published by Charles Scribner & Co., New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

The object of this work is to assist the teacher in leading the pupil gradually and systematically from the analysis of the simple to that of the complex problem. It is designed for public and private schools. The lessons are simplified by black-board exerexercises, and range from the lowest scale to the highest range of calculation. Gradually the scholar rises step by step, until he reaches the most difficult and obstruse problems of intellectual arithmetic. This volume forms part of the Natural series in course of publication by that house.

The Use of Tobacco. By J. H. Griscom, M. D., President of the New York Association for the Advancement of Science and Art, etc. Published by G. P. Putnam & Son, New York.

The evils, physical, mental, moral, and social, resulting from the use of tobacco, are portrayed in strong language. Facts are introduced of the baneful effects of the use of tobacco that are beyond peradventure. It is shown that its use is a frequent cause of loss of sight. Dispepsia and palpitation of the heart is induced by excessive smoking. Cancer of the lips, diseases of teeth and jaw-bone, paralysis, and the disturbance and impairment of the mental faculties are fruits too of the use of tobacco. This little book of less than fifty pages gives valuable information in relation to this evil.

Christmas Books. By Charles Dickens. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston.

The excellent features of this edition, known as the "Charles Dickens' Edition," from the fact that the author prepared a head line on every other page, and in other respects revised the edition, has been over and over again commended. The contents are: A Christmas Carol, the Chimes, the Cricket on the Hearth, the Battle of Life, the Haunted Man, and seven sketches by Boz, illustrating every day life and every day people. This volume contains sixteen elegant illustrations. The edition is cheap and splendidly gotten up in every respect.

Dickens and Scott's Cheap Editions—D. Appleton & Co., New York, sends us through Henry Miner, Fifth street, Dickens "Uncommercial Traveller," at 35 cents, and "The Black Dwarf," of the Waverly Novels, 25 cents.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Harper & Brothers, New York, will soon have ready the second volume of the new Theological Encyclopedia, edited by Drs. McClintock and Strong. The first volume of this valuable and scholarly work elicited the highest enconiums from the religious and secular press. It will fill a want long felt, and is an invaluable contribution to the grand works of a similar character of past years.

Charles Scribner & Co., of New York, will commence this summer, the publication of complete series of Text-Books, for the study of the German, French, Italian and Spanish languages, by George F. Comfort, A. M., Professor of Modern Languages and Æsthetics in Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa. The four series will be prepared on a uniform plan, uniting the latest results of Philological Science with the most practical methods of instruction. Professor Comfort has rare qualifications for this work, and we look, from what we know of his scholarly attainments, that he will perform his work excellently well.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

Fire in Lawrenceville.

The several fire companies of the department were afforded an excellent opportunity of testing the speed and metal of their horses as well as the zeal and energies of the men yesterday afternoon, in all of which they acquitted themselves gallantly. At half-past one o'clock an alarm of fire was heard from box 34, corner of Canal and Liberty streets, and thither all the department now in service proceeded in their usually prompt manner, notwithstanding the thermometer stood at several degrees above seventy in the shade. On arriving at the point from whence the alarm proceeded, they were informed that the fire was at the foot of Ewalt street, Lawrenceville, in the oil refinery of J. C. Kirkpatrick & Co., a telegraphic dispatch having been received at the Allegheny Valley Railroad depot to that effect. On arriving at the scene of the conflagration the engine room of the oil refinery referred to was found to be on fire, and the flames had made such progress before the engines arrived that it was impossible to save that portion of the building, and the attention of the firemen was directed to the surrounding buildings, all of which were saved from destruction by their labor.

The building destroyed was a one story brick, situated on Ewalt s reet, between the Allegheny Valley Railroad and the river, and was used as an engine room, the boiler and furnace being against the outside of the north wall. On the south and west sides were higher buildings, in one of which there was a tank containing 500 gallons of refined oil, and on the north side a few feet from the furnace the crude oil receiving tank is situated, all of which were protected from any damage, notwithstanding their close proximity to the burning building, and the inflamable nature of the material, they contained. At the time the fire was discovered, the men employed at the refinery were engaged in pumping water to fill a tank and the stream was immediately turned on the flames, which kept them partially under subjection until the engines arrived. The loss will scarcely exceed one thousand dollars, on which there was no insurance.

The Relief Engine did not reach the ground in consequence of an accident. In turning the corner of High and Wylie streets, a box in one of the front wheels was broken, the wheel came off and letting the weight of the engine drop on the point of the spindle, broke an axle. The tire on the Neptune Hose Carriage was broken by running against a stone.

Report of the Districting Committee.

Some time since a committee of nineteen was appointed by resolution of Councils to re-district the city, and in accordance with the requirements of the resolution under which it was appointed, the committee met for the purpose of performing the labor assigned them. After several ineffectual efforts to agree upon a report the committee appointed a sub-committee of eight, which was instructed to go over the entire consolidated city and report to the original committee, and pursuant to instructions said sub-committee made a tour of the city on Wednesday, and at a meeting of the original committee, yesterday evening, presented their report, which, we learn, contemplates dividing the city into twenty-four wards. We were able to obtain a complete report of the boundaries and numbers of the following wards only:

The First, Second and Fourth wards are not changed. The Tenth ward will be the Third. The Third, with a portion of the Sixth, will constitute the Fifth. That portion of the Eighth ward west of Pride street will constitute the Sixth. The First Precinct of the Sixth extending to Fulton street, will constitute the Seventh ward. The Fifth is to be called the Eighth, and the Second Precinct of the Sixth will be the Ninth. That portion of the Eighth east of Pride street will be the Tenth. The Seventh will hereafter be the Eleventh, and the Ninth will be known as the Twelfth. The Thirteenth will be composed of that portion of Pitt lying between Morton street and Lawrenceville, and the remaining portion of Pitt will be the Fourteenth and Fifteenth wards, and First and Second wards of Lawrenceville will be the Sixteenth and Seventeenth respectively.

So much of the report we learn has been agreed upon by a majority of the Committee, and will be reported to Councils for approval at the next regular meeting.

Presbyterian Union.

At the recent meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in this city, and the United Presbyterian General Assembly in Argyle, New York, coöperative committees were appointed to secure a basis of organic Union for the two bodies. These committees have agreed to meet in the First United Presbyterian Church, (Rev. W. J. Reid's) Seventh street, this city, on Tuesday, the 30th inst., at two o'clock P. M. The following gentlemen compose the Committees: From the Reformed Presbyterian Synod. Revs. John McMaster, D.D., John N. McLeod, D.D., and John Douglas, D.D., and Messrs. J. F. Morton and Samuel Young. From the United Presbyterian General Assembly, Revs. John T. Pressly, D.D., John S. Easton, D.D., J. T. Cooper, D.D., and Messrs. Thomas McCance, William Hall and John Alexander.

These two bodies are so closely identified in doctrine, government, discipline and worship that, in our opinion, there is no barrier in the way of their organic unity.

A Long Sleep.

Mary Duffy was arrested in the Diamond, Allegheny, by officer Nixon, Wednesday night, in a stupid condition, and the officer believing her to be intoxicated put her in the lock-up. She went to sleep soon after being locked up and slept until about five o'clock next evening, all efforts to arouse her from the stupor into which she had fallen proving unavailing. At five o'clock Dr. Campbell was called in to see her, and by the application of the proper remedies restored her to consciousness. The stupor was thought to have been caused by epilepsy. She was sent to hospital.

Arrest of "Johnny" Mackey.

A series of burglaries have recently been committed in Cleveland, the thieves realising large yields from their nefarious operations. Yesterday, as we learn by telegraph from that city, "Johnny" Mackey the well known pugilist, who is universally known in this city among sporting men, having held forth here for some time, was arrested by the Chief of Police, having in his possession a quantity of silver ware, coin and other valuables, the proceeds of late burglaries at the houses of J. H. Wade and others, of that city. He will have an examination to-day.

The burglars are making a raid on saloon keepers, pushing the cause of temperance by robbing the dealers of their profits. Yesterday we reported three burglaries in Allegheny, saloon keepers being the sufferers. On Thursday night some individuals gained entrance to the saloon of John Snyder, No. 39 Fourth street, between Market and Ferry, and stole $45 from the money drawer. They also stole a single barrelled pistol, and a silver mounted "four shooter." Moreover, they took away half a gallon of stomach bitters and turned the spiggots of ale barrels, so that the precious liquid all ran out.

Personal.—The Rev. P. H. Mowry, of Newville, Pa., formerly of Allegheny, has received a call to the Presbyterian church, Lancaster, Pa.

Sabbath School Anniversary.

The Sabbath School of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church celebrated their anniversary last evening. There was quite a large audience present, the majority of whom, of course, were children. The church was decorated in a very tasteful and becoming manner. An arch of evergreens was erected over the platform in front of the pulpit, in which two beautiful national flags were gracefully enfolded. Mr. F. R. McCutcheon, Superintendent of the School, presided on the occasion, and introduced the exercises by giving out a portion of psalmody, after the singing of which, the Pastor of the congregation, Rev. John Douglas, D. D., led in prayer. Rev. Robert A. Browne, D. D., President of Westminister College, then delivered an able and eloquent address. Dr. Browne spoke of the greatness and benevolence of the work of the Sabbath School Teacher.—Training is important in every department of life. The young should be careful to form good habits in early life. Benedict Arnold's youful cruelty developed itself into treason in his riper years. He clipped fleis of their wings, pierced them with a pin, and then gloated over their lingering tortures.

After the singing of another psalm. Rev. Dr. Douglas delivered a short address. He impressed upon the children the importance of aiming well. To aim well is to succeed well.

The different classes, through their treasurers, handed in their contributions for the past six months, which amounted to a liberal sum.

Mr. F. R. McCutcheon, the Superintendent, then distributed rewards to a large number of scholars for their punctual attendance. Misses Minnie Hutchinson and Lizzie Elliott received prizes for having brought the largest number of scholars into the Sabbath school. A beautiful silver medal and two handsome volumes were exhibited by the Superintendent, which will be awarded at the close of the year, to the three who shall introduce the largest number of scholars.

Mr. R. C. Miller, in behalf of the teachers, presented to Mr. Hugh Young one of the most beautiful bibles we have ever seen, as a token of their recognition of his many eminent services to the Sabbath School.

Rev. Dr. Douglas, in behalf of the members of her class, presented to Miss Annie R. McCutcheon a handsome copy of the "Psalms in Metre," and the "Memories of Olivet" by Macduff, as a testimonial of their high esteem.

The Superintendent, Mr. McCutcheon, returned thanks to the audience for their attendance and the scholars for their orderly conduct.

The exercises were of the most pleasing and entertaining character. The singing by the choir was excellent; the concluding chant was well executed.

The earth is the Lord's, &c.,

On the table, immediately in front of the Superintendent, there was quite a profusion of the choicest flowers, which diffused a rich and delightful fragrance. The congregation was dismissed with a benediction.

Pork Packing—Superior Hams.

The business of pork packing has been for years so closely identified with Cincinnati, that it is a difficult matter to separate them. Until within a few years past the mention of Cincinnati would bring to view, as it were, huge piles of pork, sugar cured hams, &c., and it was almost impossible to speak of one without thinking of the other; but as the world grows older the people grow wiser, and the fact is becoming generally known that the establishment of Messrs. F. Sellers & Co., corner of Penn and Wayne streets, which is the most complete of its character and the most reliable, is producing a better quality of sugar cured hams, shoulders, dried beef and tongues than ever left the "Pork City." The celebrated "Eagle" brand of sugar cured hams turned out by this establishment is superior to all others, either American or European, not even excepting the highly praised Westphalia hams. Wherever known they are prized as a truly first-class article, and invariably give the most unqualified satisfaction. Messrs. Sellers & Co. have an immense stock of these hams now ready for market, and are prepared to supply them wholesale or retail on reasonable terms. The firm also keep constantly on hand a large supply of shoulders, sides, dried beef, sugar cured beef tongues, a prime article, &c. &c., with a heavy stock of the best kettle rendered lard in buckets, kegs and tierces, which they offer the trade at the lowest prices. Persons desiring anything in their line should not fail to give them a call.

A Grand Concert in Preparation:

Prof. Wm. H. Slack, who is so well and favorably known to our music loving community, has in preparation a rare treat in the Concert line. This is no less than a Grand Concert, in which One Thousand Singers will appear on the stage at one time.

This immense Concert is announced to come off at the Keystone Skating Rink, Allegheny, on Thursday and Friday evening's, June 18th and 19th, and a Matinee on Saturday afternoon. June 20th.

An elevated platform, 80 feet wide by 50 feet deep, for the singers, has been erected; extending entirely across the west end of the building, and seats have been prepared on the floor of the Rink, sufficient to accommodate from three to four thousand persons.

Altogether this concert promises to be one of the grandest affairs of the season.

A Strawberry Festival, conducted in first class style, will be held in the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church on Sixth street, on Tuesday and Wednesday next. Ample arrangements are being made to secure the enjoyment of all who attend.

The Water Committee of the City Councils have awarded to the Knap Fort Pitt Company the contracts for repairs to the engine at the Water Works, and for the new pump. The contract price is $11,000—the contractors to have the old material.

Strawberries. — Strawberries are quite plenty in market, but are still sold at extravagant prices. They were offered at twenty-five cents per quart yesterday morning, but sold at lower figures before the market closed.

Politicians, bear in mind that Pittock has opened his stock of campaign goods. Send in for circulars.

To Coffee Drinkers.

Since 1861 it has been almost impossible to procure a pure article of coffee, or unadulterated spices, in consequence of the great advance in the price of the article. The country has been flooded with imitations and substitutes for coffee to such an extent that the pure article, on account of the inability of many persons to procure it, was almost forgotten. We are coming back to the old stand point, however, and can once more enjoy the pleasant aroma of the genuine Java or the pure Rio, and for this blessing we are in a great measure indebted to Messrs. Strickler & Morledge, of the Iron City Spice Mills, Fifth Street Extension, who, by giving to the public their excellent unadulterated rost coffees, have, in a great measure, rid the market of the vile trash with which it was glutted. In addition to the excelsior roasted coffee in pound packages, the spices of every discription prepared at this establishment are warranted pure and unadulterated, and the concentrated flavoring extracts, which are prepared from the choicest fruits are of the finest quality and have become universally popular. This is one of the most reliable firms in the city, and having established a reputation for honesty and fair dealing, they endeavor to the best of their ability to sustain it. Persons desiring anything in their line should not fail to give them a call. Their articles are kept in all the principal groceries, and branded "Iron City Spice Mills."

"The Last Ditch."

The arrangements for the production of Mr. Hahn's new burlesque have been completed, and the piece will be produced on Monday evening under the most favorable circumstances. The season promises to be an unusually brilliant one, and the public, in anticipation of that fact, are expressing their approval of the same in a substantial manner by a liberal purchase of tickets. The play going public have become so disgusted with the penurious policy of other managers that anything approaching liberality on the part of Mr. Hahn will be received as a blessing and fully appreciated. Pittsburghers are liberal in their views, and always ready and willing to contribute to the support of any and every enterprise conducted upon principle, in accordance with their views, and just as ready to withhold their support when penuary and selfishness is the ruling feature, a fact unmistakably demonstrated by the great number of empty benehes which were to be seen in the Opera House night after night during the latter part of the season which has just closed.

Caught at Last.

On the 7th of March, 1865, Mary E. Moore made information before Alderman Taylor, charging Henry Humes with fornix et cet, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. The officer in whose hands the warrant was placed made diligent search for the young man, but failed to find him, and it was subsequently ascertained that he had anticipated a prosecution and left the county. A few days since, thinking the affair had passed out of mind, he returned to the city, and officer Bell hearing of the fact arrested him yesterday. He was held for a hearing, but it is probable that the matter will be compromised.

Assault.—Frank Deitrich, a butcher, made information before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charging J. E. Donnell, a pedler, with assault. Deitrich it appears was driving a lot of sheep along the East Liberty road when he met Donnell, driving a wagon, who he alleges attempted to drive over his sheep, and when he interfered to prevent him from doing so, Donnell struck at him with a whip. The accused was arrested, and after a hearing was discharged, and the prosecutor required to pay the costs.

A Wife Beater.—Ann E. Butler, residing near the Minersville car station, made information before Alderman Thomas, yesterday, charging her husband, Zachariah Butler, with assault and battery. She alleges that he comes home drunk every night and beat and abused her in a most shameful manner. He also threatened to kill her, for which an information was made for surety of the peace. He was arrested and after a hearing held to bail for his appearance at court to answer in both cases.

The Most Elegant silk mantles were exhibited by Messrs. Bates & Bell, the well known dry goods dealers, No. 21 Fifth street, will now be found on hand at that house. The assortment is the most superb selection from among those expressly imported for the New York City trade, and is well worthy the inspection of all. The firm will take much pleasure in showing the stock to visitors whether they are desirous of purchasing or not.

Indications for June.—Our observations have been much obstructed by the laying of the Nicolson pavement, but we venture to predict hot weather for the rest of the month. Consequently we advise our readers to go to Cree Brothers, 25 Fifth street, for summer underwear. They sell summer Undershirts for 50 cents; Drawers, 75 cents; real British Socks, worth 50 cents, for 33 cents, and the Star Shirt made by them is unrivalled for fit and cheapness.

Cat Fight.—A regular cat fight occurred in the 8th ward yesterday, between Rosa Boyle and Bridget Early. Scratching, biting and pulling hair was the order, and it was indulged in freely. Rosa it appears got the worst of the squabble, and in order to be even with her antagonist, made information before Alderman Strain, charging Bridget with assault and battery. She was arrested and held for a hearing.

Threatened an Officer.—Thomas O'Connor, constable of the Third ward, made information before Alderman Strain, yesterday, alleging that William McQuade threatened to kill him by running a sword through him. The officer, it appears, had an execution against McQuade and was endeavoring to make a levy, when the threats were made. McQuade was arrested and held for a hearing.

Surety of the Peace.—Bridget Mulherron made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, alleging that her husband, John Mulherron, put her and her three children out of the house, and threatened to kill her if she returned. He was arrested and held to bail to answer at court.

Assault and Battery.—Philip O'Neil made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday, charging Patrick Barnes with assault and battery. The parties reside in Collins township. He also made information against him for surety of the peace. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Alumni Meeting.—A special meeting of the Alumni of the Western University will be held at the University Chapel, corner of Ross and Diamond streets, Tuesday evening next, at 8 o'clock, at which time a full attendance on the part of members is earnestly requested.

Another Libel Case.—Mrs. C. L. Trimble, whose establishment was "ventilated" through the columns of the Evening Mail recently, has made information before Alderman Strain, charging the editor with libel. A hearing will be had in the case this afternoon.

The rarest books, the most enticing stationery, the largest collection of periodicals and magazines will be found at the store of Col. J. D. Egan, Sixth street, near Smithfield. Prices very reasonable.

The Commencement of the Mountain Seminary, Birmingham, Huntingdon county, will be held in the Seminary Chapel, on the 24th inst. Grier, a gentlemen possessing in an eminent degree, the qualities essential for a successful principal and conductor, ably assisted by the accomplished assistant Miss. N. J. Davis, has been the most flourishing. The Seminary has been filled to its greatest capacity, and many applicants for admission had to be refused for want of accommodations. Those who attend the commencement exercises, will, no doubt be elegantly entertained, and amply rewarded in their visit, for the literary and musical treat in store for them, is of the highest order. A number of young ladies from this city, are in attendance at the institution. Miss Betty Black will represent Pittsburgh in the graduating class.

The Only Machine that is Perfect.

The Weed Sewing Machine has attained a reputation of which the Company may well be proud, and is now acknowleged to be the only machine that is made.

It is a settled fact that it is driving all the other machines from the market. The amount sold is astonishing. In Pittsburgh and vicinity fifty per week, and the Company is selling two thousand per month.

We are very glad to see that the agent, Mr. R. H. Long, has adopted terms to suit all, by making monthly payments.

Their stock is kept always up to the requirements of the day, and cannot fail to please all who call.

Alleged Larceny.—Con. Nelligan, charged on oath of James Sherman with the larceny of sixty dollars, was arrested and had a hearing yesterday before the Mayor. It appears that Sherman, who keeps a saloon in Diamond alley, was beastly drunk, and by some means lost sixty dollars, which he believes was taken by the accused, because he was in his establishment the night the money was taken. It appears to have been a drunken case in the beginning, and at least one of the Attorneys was drunk enough to be disorderly while trying the case before the Mayor yesterday. The accused was held for a further hearing.

Larceny by Bailee.—Patrick Donnelly made information before Justice Ammon, yesterday, charging Joseph Bavar with larceny by bailee. The parties worked together at the American Iron Works, in Brownstown, and drew the wages in common, and it was alleged that the accused drew $44, one half of which belonged to the prosecutor, but which he, the accused, neglected to pay over. Bavar was arrested and the case was compromised by the accused paying the $22 and costs, after which he was discharged.

Suicide of a Lady.—The New Philadelphia, Ohio, Chronicle says: This community was thrown into a terrible state of feeling on last Saturday upon hearing of the death, by poison, of the eldest daughter of one of our most esteemed citizens. Yielding, in an unguarded hour, to the wiles of seduction, all the bright hopes of innocence and purity, with the joys that spring from conscious rectitude, were blasted not to be regained while the spirit, filled with remorse, inhabited the poor tenement of clay.

Assaulted a Boy.—Patrick O'Neil made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging George Leesey and Henry Gloner with assault and battery. Patrick is employed on the Oakland railway, and his son, a boy twelve or fourteen years of age, is "postillion" on the road, and it is alleged that the accused caught the boy at the Soho bridge while he was waiting for a car and beat him shamefully. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Serious Accident.—Henry Coniker was seriously injured yesterday evening while at work in the Independent Engine House, Ninth ward. It appears that Mr. C. was in the cellar of the building, when one of the brick layers at the top of the building accidently let a brick fall, which struck him on the head, cutting a severe gash in the scalp. He was removed to Dr. Ardale's office, and his injuries dressed by the doctor.

Queer Abandonment.—Yesterday morning Mrs. Anna M. Miller, of the Fifth ward, preferred a charge of abandonment against her husband, John Miller, before Alderman Strain. The accused was arrested and had a hearing, at which it was proved that he supported his wife in very good style, and had not, in the strict sense of the word, abandoned her at all. He was discharged.

Larceny of Metal.—John A. Caughey of the firm of Caughey & Co., Iron dealers, made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging David H. Irwin, and a boy named Hamil, with the larceny of one hundred pounds of iron, valued at $2. The boys were arrested and held for a hearing, and a search warrent issued.

Caved In.—A private sewer on Second street, between Smithfield and Grant, caved in on Wednsday night. It will be repaired immediately.

Hopes are entertained by Dr. McMeal that Mrs. Hook, who was accidentally shot on Thursday, will recover. She was much better yesterday.
